

A very fine and early food dish carved with a stylized ancestor figure projecting from one edge.

A very fine and early food dish carved with a stylized ancestor figure projecting from one edge. The back of the dish is well carved with a complex circular motif highlighted with two ancestor faces. Boiken Plains, North Coast Sepik Region, PNG, Melanesia. Hard wood with a good patina of use and age.

Probably carved with non-metal Tools. 52 x 39 cm. 19th/20th century. Ex Michael Hamson, Calif.